

Dear BCCG members and friends,

Burns Suppers are held around the world to celebrate the life, works and spirit of the great Scottish poet Robert Burns (1759 – 1796). The BCCG Rhine-Main region is pleased to uphold this tradition by hosting the tenth anniversary celebration of the famous bard's birthday in Frankfurt. We would be delighted if you could join us.

Date: Saturday 20th January, 2018
Time: 7pm - midnight
Place: Freimaurerloge zur Einigkeit, Kaiserstraße 37, 60329 Frankfurt am Main

NatWest Bank PLC, DZ Bank, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer, Frankfurt RheinMain GmbH and SDI are once again kindly supporting this year's event. We are also proud to have the endorsement of the British Honorary Consulate in Frankfurt. This year, we are honoured to welcome prominent Scotsman, The Rt. Hon. Lord Lamont of Lerwick, former British Chancellor of the Exchequer, who has agreed to attend and officiate at the event.

For a contribution of € 50 per person for BCCG members and € 60 per person for non-members we'll provide a three-course supper with soup, haggis and dessert, and plenty of Scottish single malt whisky. Bagpipes, Scottish dancing, recitations of well-loved Burns poems and a fine musical programme will help keep you entertained.

We ask that the laddies (gentlemen) appear in formal evening dress (Black Tie / Smoking), traditional Scottish national dress (kilt), or a dark suit. Lassies (ladies) are invited to wear an evening gown or cocktail dress. Please ensure that you have the necessary footwear to enable to you dance. Kilt-wearers are advised that, on registration, their names will be put into a hat for a lucky draw and a surprise later in the evening!

Please register online (link to invitation) or use the attached registration form to confirm your attendance and return it to us via fax. Please register early to avoid disappointment.

Kindest regards

Susan Tackenberg

The kilt question (no, not that question!)

Wearing Scottish national dress is, of course, the best option for laddies attending a Burns Supper. Several Burns Supper attendees have asked what the rules are for wearing kilts and where they can find them. So we thought it would be a good idea to provide some information on how to obtain the right outfit.

Contrary to popular belief, you do not need to be Scottish to wear a kilt. A typical outfit for a formal Burns Supper costs around € 1 000 to have made to measure, but will last for years. Alternatively, you can hire a kilt for the occasion.

The closest place to get hold of your outfit is 'Kilts & More', a dedicated supplier to Scottish pipe bands and Scottish country dancing societies throughout mainland Europe that just happens to be located very close to Heidelberg.

We would recommend you call or visit Kilts & More to see what tartan best suits you and order your outfit. Typically, once you have chosen your tartan, the kilt is made to your measurements in Scotland. This will take approx. 6 – 7 weeks, so if you want to be sure of getting the tartan you want in time for the BCCG Burns Supper, you need to order it as soon as possible. You can also hire a full kilt outfit from Kilts & More from €250 for the weekend. Please give them a call or write an email to enquire about availability.

Choosing an appropriate tartan can be tricky, but Burns Supper expert Clark McGinn, who has officiated at our Burns Suppers in the past, gives the following good advice:

1. If you bear the name of a tartan-wearing clan, or your name is a sept (which is a branch) of one, then you and yours may wear that tartan.
2. If you have served in a Scottish Regiment or in a Pipe Band or a Drum Corps you may wear its colours
3. Hundreds of clubs and firms also have registered tartans that you can wear if you are a member or an employee
4. There is a group of generic tartans that 'anyone' can wear including the Black Watch and the Royal Stewart tartans
5. The final category is: whatever the hire firm has in your size.

Of course, if you are feeling Scottish enough or don't like the idea of baring your legs in the middle of winter, you do not have to pay for an extra outfit at all. A dinner suit or a dark business suit is perfectly acceptable. However, kilt-wearers will for the first time have the opportunity to take part in a raffle for a surprise later in the evening!
