THE FUTURE OF LONDON'S FINANCIAL INDUSTRY

- What will be the possible outcome of the negotiations between the UK and the EU?
- How important is the European Passport for the financial industry?
- What are the consequences of the current market uncertainty for the Financial Industry in London?

Venue:

Church House Westminster
Westminster Abbey
Precincts - Dean's Yard
SW1P 3NZ, London

Dear members and guests,

You are cordially invited to our next conference:

THE FUTURE OF LONDON'S FINANCIAL INDUSTRY

While the UK's EU referendum has created a state of significant uncertainty, businesses operating in and through the UK are questioning how they will be affected by the consequences of this decision

Among the most exposed to this uncertainty are companies operating in the financial sector - such as banks, insurances and brokers - because their current ability to benefit from the European Passport may be at risk.

At the moment the outcome of the negotiations between the UK and the EU seems to be crucial for the future of London's financial industry. These negotiations, however, will take at least two years and business decisions will have to be made in between.

Our panellists aim to bring light into the current discussions and dispel false and rash assumptions. The experts of the political and the financial sector will assess the current situation thereby focusing on the cooperation between the financial markets of London and Frankfurt and the future of the European Passport. The aim of the conference is to provide guidance for business decisions which makes strategic planning possible even during the period of negotiations.
