To mark International Women's Day, we would like to invite you to the second instalment of the SHeconomy series, hosted by BCCG and the British Embassy Berlin. Join us to discuss the HM Treasury's 'Women in Finance Charter' together with two signatories, Barclays and Deutsche Bank. What actions are already being taken to support greater gender diversity in the financial services sector, and what more can we do to achieve greater diversity in the future? The panel discussion will be followed by a networking lunch.

SHeconomy is a new format from the British Chamber of Commerce in Germany, directed at Women in Business. The number of women working in economics and finance is increasing worldwide. With SHeconomy we hope to establish a communication platform which facilitates regular exchange of ideas and discussion of innovative approaches to economic and political issues. We also want to offer a networking opportunity for engaged women.

Please register using the attached RSVP form.

Best wishes,
