British Chamber of Commerce in Germany

BCCG Membership Fees and Types of Membership
(as per members vote at BCCG members meeting on 14 May 2025)

Types of BCCG Membership		Membership Fees in €
Sponsoring Membership	Premium (by invitation of the President)	7.700 (+)
	Large (101+ employees)	4.400
	Medium (20-100 employees)	2.800
	Small (1-19 employees)	1.900
Regular Membership	Large (101+ employees)	2.200
	Medium (20-100 employees)	1.700
	Small (1-19 employees or private member)	550
	New Small/Start-Up (1-19 employees)*	200
Regular Membership (Individual Members with special status)	Senior (after retirement from work)	150
	Student (with verification)	100
	Young BCCG: up to 32 years from 33 to 40 years	100 200
Branch Membership	Members' Branches	200

* with verification documents, for a max. of 3 years, upgrade to regular membership thereafter

Your Options of Membership

Regular BCCG Membership

Membership categories for professionals and companies are based on the number of employees. Reduced fees apply to newly established companies (start-ups), to members of Young BCCG, students and senior citizens.

Sponsoring Membership

We offer and recommend considering a „Sponsoring Membership". With a Sponsoring Membership, you will additionally reap the benefits of:

- First option for co-operation and commercial partnership at events
- Invitation to the annual Sponsoring Members Dinner in Berlin by H.E. The British Ambassador to Germany
- Special invitations to e.g. for VIP events of members/third parties where ticket numbers are restricted
- Priority placements of advertisements and PR articles in BCCG publications
- Inclusion in expert groups by personal nomination, e.g. for Government Relations Committee and our Industry Expert Groups

Young BCCG

The Young BCCG is open to members up to the age of 40, for whom there is a separate, cost-reduced membership category. The Young BCCG organizes its own events in its seven regions in Germany and the UK, aimed at a young audience. This enables young professionals to start building their own network and shape the next generation of German-British cooperation.

BCCG British Chamber of Commerce in Germany e.V. · Heidestr. 58 · 10557 Berlin
Tel.: +49 (0)30 206 70 80 · Internet: http://www.bccg.de · E-mail: info@bccg.de
Deutsche Bank AG, Berlin · IBAN DE23 1007 0000 0070 0799 00 · BIC/Swift DEUTDEBBXXX · USt. ID-Nr. DE248938905

Your Advantages of Membership

1. Bilateral Trade and Business Organisation
   The BCCG is offering the largest British-German business and institutional network with about 600 members and several thousand personal contacts.

2. Networking Opportunities
   The BCCG offers personal contacts in all industrial and service sectors as well as political and other trade organisations. We are supporting the dialogue through an abundance of networking opportunities in all of our 12 regions through over 100 annual content-driven conferences and high-class events utilising member expertise and other contacts.

3. Policies and Special Themes
   BCCG supports its members' interests by maintaining political contacts in Germany and the UK.
   BCCG Expert Groups discuss and advise on a variety of relevant economic issues members and stakeholders of the BCCG.

4. SHeconomy
   SHeconomy addresses the female business community. Worldwide, the number of women in politics and economy is rising. With our new SHeconomy series we have established a communication platform for exchanging ideas and discussing innovative approaches of economic and political themes. Furthermore, we support committed women in extending their network.

5. Business Knowledge and Communications
   The BCCG offers business guidance through publications of PR and professional articles, press releases and advertising in its publications, via our social media channels, the e-News Updates as well as on the BCCG Website.

6. BCCG Organisation
   The BCCG helps by answering daily enquiries and establishing relevant contacts. Besides the offices in Berlin and London, the BCCG is represented throughout Germany and the UK with twelve honorary regional committees to meet local needs and requirements.

7. BCCG Foundation
   The BCCG supports bilateral education projects through the BCCG Foundation, a charity under German law. It supports internship exchanges between the two countries, as well as student exchanges, and promotes further social and cultural links between the UK and Germany.

Membership Details

You can find further details on our website www.bccg.de. Please feel free to contact us on info@bccg.de

British Chamber of Commerce in Germany e.V.
Heidestr. 58
10557 Berlin
Germany

Tel. +49 30 206 70 80

E-Mail info@bccg.de
Internet www.bccg.de